A young Rosa near the beginning of her creative writing career

About The Founder

RAGS Productions was birthed to Rosa M. Bryant, a native of Raleigh N.C. Her parents moved to Baltimore Md. when she was eleven years old, and there is where she graduated from Eastern High School. As an adult she moved back to Raleigh and later attended Shaw University (CAPE Program) graduating with an associate's degree in Business Management and a bachelor's degree in Sociology. Rosa participated in drama teams and creative writing groups. She performed with the Write on Time writer's group and CHAINS (Creating Hope And Inventing New Stories) drama team. She performed at schools and churches which was challenging and rewarding for her. She enjoys acting but her love is writing. She has written several stage plays, skits, and completed two screen plays. The amazing thing about Rosa's education, stage acting and writing talent is she earned her degrees, acting skills, and writing talent while incarcerated. To learn more about Rosa visit www.rags2009.webs.com.

Helping young writers to discover one of their hidden talents in the Writing Group

From The Desk of The Founder

RAGS Productions will encourage and uplift the youth, bringing messages from life experiences. RAGS will educate our youth about deviant behavior and the dangers of the streets.

As a youth, I was not educated in those dangers; I had to learn from experience, which was not always the best teacher. I hung out with the wrong crowd wanting to fit in, and not long after I was indulging in alcohol and drugs. I lost focus on what was important in life (me, living, morals, values, etc...). My unhealthy choices landed me in prison. I made many wrong choices in my life and it was a high price to pay.

Many of the young people today are making many of the same wrong choices. It's a cycle, a cycle that is well overdue to be broken. It is our responsibility to educate the youth and deter them from self destruction. It is time for us, as a people, to unite and save our children. They are crying out for help and we need to listen and take action. The youth are our future and our future is depending on us.

The youth can grow and learn about making right choices in life through the programs and performing arts at RAGS Productions.

Reaching Artistic Goals Successfully is what RAGS is all about!!!
